Reply to Office Action of November 17, 2004

R E M A R K S

In the final Office Action of November 17, 2004, the Examiner identified an informality in paragraph [0015] of Applicant's specification. It appears that the objected-to portion, "TVAC.01P Patent3," was an artifact created by the software required to convert the application from its native MS Word file format to that required by the Patent Office when filing electronically. In any event, by the present amendment such portion has been removed.

Correction of Inventor's Name

During preparation of the Appeal Brief it was discovered that the Patent Office records identify the last name of the inventor as "Vacker." The proper spelling is "Vackar" - with a final "a" and not "e." It appears that the original entry at the time of filing of Mr. Vackar's name was made in error, and Applicant's counsel apologizes for this inadvertent misspelling. Correction is respectfully requested.
